

Robert Murphy

Specialist, Dropout Prevention and Alternative Programs
Maryland State Department of Education

Robert Murphy grew up in Detroit, Mi. He moved to Maryland to attend Morgan State University in 1992. After graduating from Morgan State University, he continued his education at Goucher College earning his Master of Education degree. His professional experiences include teaching at the Kennedy Krieger Institute, Teacher at Cheltenham Youth Facility, Executive Director at The Salvation Army Boys & Girls Club of Baltimore, Assistant Principal and currently employed with the Maryland State Department of Education as a Specialist, Dropout Prevention and Alternative Programs. Mr. Murphy is father to the best daughter in the world Kaiya!